

NARCISSUS

a solo exhibition by Jeffrey Heiman
August 16, 2025, to September 8, 2025

The Project presents a curated selection of new paintings by Jeffrey Heiman.
He was born in 1993, and lives and works in Upstate, New York.

In these paintings the artist traces the lingering presence of past relationships across spaces. Fragmented figures drift through interiors where time folds in on itself. Heiman's paintings blur the line between the real and the remembered. The exhibition takes its title from a work depicting a boy spitting into his reflection, a contemporary reimagining of the myth of Narcissus. The artist draws on memory and history to explore intimacy, absence, and the surreal within space.

Heiman has been "Artist in Residence" at the Vermont Studio Center (Johnson, VT), the Byrdcliffe Artist Colony (Woodstock, NY), and recently earned his MFA in Painting from Bard College. This is his first solo exhibit after Bard College, and second exhibit with the Project.
