"The Boys of Summer" at The Fireplace Project welcomes the fall with sunglasses on

Ryan McGinley, Untitled (Black Bear), 2007

The gleaming exhibition curated by Shelley Fox Aarons and Edsel Williams at East Hampton's Fireplace Project turned the last stretch of the summer season into a high-toned celebration of masculinity and sandy-haired youth. The works of eleven artists ranging from Collier Schorr, Scott Treleaven, Paul P., and Aarons's blue-eyed boy Terence Koh served as an antidote to seasonal nostalgia as a myriad of white-pants clad guests including Beth de Woody and Klaus Biesenbach hopped off German convertibles to crowd the opening.

"The Boys of Summer" features Herman Bas, Jen DeNike, Eric Fischl, Anthony Goicolea, Terence Koh, Natalya Laskis, Ryan McGinley, Jack Pierson, Paul P., Collier Schorr, and Scott Treleaven, and runs through September 30, 2008, at the Fireplace Project, East Hampton, NY.
